

RACHEL KOHL COMMUNITY LIBRARY

687 Smithbridge Road, Glen Mills, PA 19342

Dear Business Owner,

March 2024

Much like your business, the Rachel Kohl Community Library serves many communities in Western Delaware County including Bethel, Chadds Ford, Chester Heights, Concord and Thornbury. With a growing population of over 40,000 people, we need your help to continue enriching our community through new and exciting programs and services.

Rachel Kohl Library contributes in so many ways to make our area a great place to live and work. Our recently expanded Children’s Library provides a large dedicated space for books and children’s programs while our former children’s area has been converted into study and tutoring room. We are currently seeking business partners to help us support our biggest programming series of the year... our free Children’s Summer Reading Program. The Series spans 10 weeks with regular programming that takes place in Concord Park or inside our Library with over 100 attendees.

As a way to promote your support of the library and its wonderful services, incentives are offered with each tiered level of sponsorship. Please consider donating at the Gold, Silver or Bronze level and become an advocate for this great community resource.
